LOCAL AND GENERAL.

—B. F. Stevens is getting well.
—Bohnsack keeps repairs for chilled and steel plows.
—Judge Wm. Carter of Farmington is in town this week.
—Farmers, go to Bohnsack's for bargains in plows.
—The horse-wrappers attended this session of circuit court and were as lively as ever.
—August Bohnsack will sell you a pocket-knife from a nickel, up.
—Rain, slush, la grippe, snow, mud, pneumonia, rain floods, funerals, and that is what the weather is like.
—Ladies, go to King's for your white goods, if you want bargains.
—The court complained considerably last Monday of the noise made by the horse-wrappers on the public square.
—August Bohnsack has just received a new stock of general hardware.
—The law, known as "the Hotel Law," whereby guests might be arrested for jumping their board-bills was repealed by the last Legislature.
—When no length of time is specified pay locals will remain in until ordered out.
—Wm. A. Caldwell died at his residence, 3 miles west of Patton, on the 8th instant. Deceased was well respected by his acquaintances.
—A full stock of the finest laces has just been received at W. S. King's, Lutesville.
—The 13th day of the third month and three times since the beginning of the year the streams of the county have overflowed their banks.
—Ladies, a beautiful line of embroideries is being sold cheap at W. S. King's, Lutesville.
—Protracted Meeting. I will begin a series of meetings at the Methodist Church in Lutesville, Monday March, 17th at 7 o'clock p. m.
—Quilt paying high prices for Coal Oil, and go to W. S. King's, Lutesville, where you can purchase the best for only fifteen cents a gallon.
—All interested in a Sunday school at the Methodist Church in Lutesville, will meet next Sunday at 9:30 a. m. to reorganize, an begin work.
—S. C. BIFFLE.
—The fact that paper collars are being imported to Lutesville has nothing to do with the McLaughlin's XXXX coffee at W. S. King's, Lutesville. Only 25c. per pound.
—Some sympleton has filed charges in Washington against U. S. Marshal Emmerson, of this district, but they are of so frivolous a nature that they will not be noticed by the administration.
—If you find a pencil cross on your paper, you may know that your time is about out, and that, without instructions to the contrary, your paper will be discontinued when the time paid for shall have expired.
—The Dunklin county candidates are getting before the "good people" early this year. The News of the 7th inst. contained four announcements—one each for sheriff, collector and circuit and county clerk.
—It don't make any difference how deep the snow is. Go to the drugstore of August Sander where you can buy all of the newest and best patent medicines, or the freshest and purest of drugs, at the most reasonable prices.
—The temperance women of Columbia are somewhat exercised over a proposed innovation, the introduction of wine at the annual alumni dinner of the State University. The dinners have heretofore been served without wine.
—The best coffee ever sold in Bollinger county is McLaughlin's four ex (XXXX) Roast Coffee. There is only one place where you can buy this coffee, at twenty five cents per pound, and that is at W. King's, Lutesville. Try it and be convinced.
—The farmers throughout the county report that the recent cold spell has left the wheat fields with the appearance of having been burned. But a few days sunshine will again cover them with a carpet of green and no harm done.

—Henry Baker has moved his family to Dutchtown.
—Judge Frymire's son has been suffering from la grippe this week.
—Pulling the wool over a man's eyes naturally gives him a sheepish appearance.—Binghampton Herald.
—An obituary was sent to this office this week, but it arrived too late for publication.
—Peter Hawn has been confined to his room the past week with la grippe. He is recovering.
—Second Quarterly Meeting for the Lutesville circuit, M. E. Church, South will be held at Hahn's Chapel, March 20th and 30th, 1890, (the 5th Sunday.)
J. T. KENDALL, P. E.
S. C. BIFFLE, P. C.
—We hope that visitors to our court will not criticize the appearance of our courthouse square too harshly. Before you come again our county court will have it enclosed with a nice fence, and the shabby old wellhouse torn away.
—C. M. Thornburgh, while dismounting from his horse at his home, had the misfortune to break the stirrup leather off his saddle, thus dropping to the ground rather heavily, with the effect of slightly fracturing one of the bones of his right leg.
—M. G. Cregan, Sheriff of St. Francois county, came down Thursday last with M. Lassater who has been confined in the jail of that county. While here Mr. Cregan made a pleasant call at this office. He will read the Press during the next twelve months.
—A gentleman of this city in speaking of a well on his premises said it was a very good well, with two exceptions. It dried up in the summer and froze up in the winter. Does any reader find any application in this to his Christian activities?—Republ.

—While you are in town take a few moments time to examine Dr. A. Sander's stock of fine jewelry. He will show you the prettiest ornaments and cutest pins; and while you are looking he will put the price so low that you can't understand how he got the goods.
—The saloon license was raised by the "City Dads" of Poplar Bluff, from $500 to $1000, thereupon the saloon men closed their doors, thinking the tax was more than they could afford to pay. It is now in order for the thirsty of that town to get a prescription and then strike a drugstore.
—From a letter received at this office we learn that John N. Shirley and W. B. Finney of Laffin and Charles Sander of Marble Hill graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons (St. Louis) with high honors on the 8th instant. The new Doctors will be at home in a few days.
LUTESVILLE LOCALS.
Mrs. Hunt is convalescent.
Dr. A. R. Jaques is confined to his bed.
Borned, on the 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilson, a girl.
J. B. Thompson went to Whitewater Monday.
Dr. Biggs has bought a dwelling-house from Fred Bruns.
The public school at this place closed on the 7th inst.
W. W. Sample lost several hogs in the high water Tuesday.
Mrs. Dr. E. P. Biggs arrived here, from Kentucky, Sunday.
W. W. Sample is having a nice house built on one of his town lots.
Mrs. Martha Hitt of Stroderville was visiting friends here last week.
Mrs. B. Mayfield of Grubville is visiting relatives here this week.
Miss Ida Conrad, who has been teaching school at Grubville, returned home Tuesday.
F. Peters has bought J. M. Lute's dwelling-house and will move into the same this week.
Lefonce Burks, well known to many of the citizens of the county, died of apoplexy (hemorrhage in the left side of the brain) at his home in Lutesville, on the morning of the 8th inst., after an illness of three days. His remains were interred yesterday in the Marble Hill Cemetery, under the auspices of the Free-Masons, Odd-Fellows and Workman.

COURT NOTES.
Judge Fox opened court at the usual hour on Monday. His charge to the grand jury was brief, but so lucid and clear that they cannot well fail to understand their duties.
The following is the list of the grand jurors empanelled to serve at the present term of the circuit court:
Foreman, James C. Smith of German twp.
Lorance twp.: J. T. Wells, E. O. Stevens, M. W. Bowman and J. H. Lessley.
Wayne: J. W. Dixon and S. A. Jackson.
Filmore: W. C. Myers.
Crooked Creek: Jesse R. Henson.
Union: Jesse D. Hahn.
Whitewater: Isaac Presnell.
Liberty: A. B. Markham.

VISITING ATTORNEYS.
W. H. Miller, J. W. Limbaugh and Robert Wilson, of Jackson, and J. L. Fort of Dexter.
Court will probably be in session all of next week.
From Laffin.
David Clippard went to St. Louis with a car load of cattle last week.
Dr. Finney moved, last week, to the Maning farm, about three miles south of Laffin.
John M. Roberts' family moved back to his farm last Thursday. Mr. Roberts will continue to clerk in Mr. Clippard's store.
Judge Estes and his son Pink were in our town Saturday.
Dr. Mayfield's family have been visiting his father for the past two weeks. The Dr. is kept very busy riding and attending to the sick.
Mr. Brown, district deputy Grand Master of the A. F. & A. M., dedicated the new Masonic Hall in this place last Saturday.

Bollinger Mills.
We have had another overflow.
Sheriff Huskey was in this part a few days ago.
A very hard hail storm visited this part on the 24th.
The hog cholera is still killing the hogs in this part.
Lee Meyers died on the 5th with la grippe—age 22 years.
We did not receive any mail here from Feb. 25 until the 6th inst.
Mrs. J. W. Dixon has been very low with la grippe for ten days.
G. W. Meyers commenced his four months school here on the 3rd.
Esq. Gains made a trip to Carter county to visit his brother, Umph. Gains.
J. W. Back closed his six months school in the Stepp district, on the 28th of Feb.
A. C. King has moved his family to his farm which he bought from the Jamison boys.
J. A. Slagle has bought all of Judge McMinn's flour. The Judge has shut down his mill until fall.
Rev. Nelson, a blind Christian preacher, and his wife, who is also blind, of Dexter, preached in the Christian church several days last week.
S. J. McMinn and J. W. King started for Lexington, Ky., to attend the commercial school. They will graduate in their business course before returning.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.
Public examinations will be held in Marble Hill on the 4th Friday and the day following in each month. Teachers are requested to meet me on those days.
No private examination will be given.
Yours truly,
W. A. DUNN,
Commissioner.

Bollinger Mills, Mo., March 7, 1890.
Dear Sir and Brother—I will be at Chester school house on the 15th and would like for you to arrange to meet your Union on Monday the 17th; Hickory Grove, on the 18th, and at Washington the 19th, as I have a call to meet Cross Roads Union, in Cape Co., on the 20th.

Fraternally yours, J. E. BAKER.

Song from the Gondoliers.
If men a merry maiden marries,
Sorrow goes and pleasure tarries;
Every sound becomes a song,
All is right and nothing's wrong!
From to-day and ever after
Let our hearts be full of laughter.
Every sigh that finds a vent
Be a sign of sweet content!
When you marry merry maiden
Then the air with love is laden;
Every flower is a rose,
Every goose becomes a swan,
Every kind of trouble gone!
Where the last year's snows have gone!
Sunlight takes the place of shade
When you marry merry maid!
When a merry maiden marries
Sorrow goes and pleasure tarries,
Every sound becomes a song—
Gawking cares and aching sorrow
Get ye gone until to-morrow;
(Jealousies in grin array—)
'Tis of things of yesterday,
When you marry merry maiden,
Then the air with joy is laden,
All the corners of the earth
Ring with music sweetly played,
Worry is melodious mirth,
Grief is joy in masquerade!
Sullen night is laughing day—
All the year is merry May!

NASTY CHEWING GUM.

Physicians Declare That It Causes Croup, Whooping Cough and Other Troubles.
In the thousand and one shops sprinkled through the narrow streets of this city, where youngsters buy lollipops, where boys invest their savings in base-balls and cigarettes at a penny apiece, and where the young ladies of tenements purchase the latest yellow-bound literature, there is always for sale a substance known as black chewing gum. Whether it is done up in spangled tinfoil, or resplendent in gaudy tissue paper, or decorated with parti-colored ribbon, it is still black chewing gum. It is generally made out of refuse gum arabic—stick bits of gum not fit for use in the apothecary shops, and is flavored variously with the cheapest of cheap extracts, licorice, wintergreen, peppermint, or, more usually, one of those poisonous flavors that are compounded from acids. The manufacturers cut a huge pile of refuse into quadrangular pieces about the size of a domino. In cold weather the bits are friable and break easily; when it is warm, they have the consistency of a piece of India rubber.

It is surprising how much of this black chewing gum is sold. A little girl, the hold of a penny somehow, and she can get to a shop quick enough to buy some of it. She chews and chews and chews on it, her jaw working as regularly and vigorously as those of a Fourth of July orator. If she has a bosom friend, she may bite a bit of gum and give the other girl to chewing. If she wishes to show particular favor to her five-year-old sweetheart she gives him a morsel. The young ladies who devour the yellow-bound novels devour gum, too. They place a fragment of it between the corners of their mouths, and while their souls go out to Elvira in her prison, or their hearts flutter in sympathy with Edgar de Montmorency in his attempt to carry off the heiress, they don't forget to chew that gum. Young boys, the leaders in tenement mischief, are too for the men who make it advertising that it perfumes the breath and lends the mouth the odor of a new-mown field, also that it aids digestion and clears the voice and is a harmless and beautiful substitute for tobacco; that it is, in fact, a piece of gum of the finest quality. It isn't. The physicians of Amsterdam, N. Y., have just declared in solemn convocation that the practice of chewing this black gum is most harmful and pernicious; they have traced directly to its innumerable cases of sore throat and sore lungs, the most dreaded of lung diseases. Their brethren of the medical profession in New York agree with them, and not only condemn black chewing gum, but all chewing gum of whatever color.

The physician who has charge of the throat dispensary of one of the largest hospitals in New York, said yesterday: "Day after day patients, nearly all girls between eight and eighteen years of age, come in here and complain that it hurts them when they swallow, or else that their mouths sting when they drink any thing warm. On examining their throats, we find the delicate mucous membrane marked here and there with little inflamed patches. In nine cases out of ten it is caused by chewing gum."

"Why is the gum hurtful?"
"The favoring is usually poisonous," replied the doctor, "and by its constant presence, it however small quantity, it sets up an inflammation. But the habit is otherwise pernicious; the retching motion of a gum-chewer's jaws provokes a superfluous flow of saliva—just as if there was always a touch of acid on the tongue—and wears out the saliva glands. Gum chewing retards digestion. If a woman fills her stomach with water or saliva she drowns the gastric juices; also the interminable attrition wears out the teeth, and foreign flavor by degrees renders the breath more and more disagreeable; the practice is bad in every way."—N. Y. Star.
